Suresh, 40, was arrested on a National Security Certificate, used to hold suspected terrorists operating in Canada, Immigration spokesman Kevin Sack said.

Sack said Suresh is being held at a jail somewhere in Ontario and would go before an immigration hearing of Friday before appearing in a federal court.

Government sources said Suresh is suspected of being a fund-raiser in Canada for the Tamil Tigers separatist group, which is using the money to finance its war against the government in Sri Lanka.
