

Why Prabhakaran due to spell out his future plans. (1993, November 25). The Observer.

• 'Heroes Day' in Jaffna
THE OBSERVER 25.11.93
Prabhakaran due to spell out his future plans

By Ananth Palakidnar

THE LTTE war lord Velupillai Prabhakaran is expected to announce his future plans at midnight on the 'Heroes Day' celebrations today, reports from Jaffna said.

Prabhakaran announced his plans on 'Heroes' Day last year and said, that the LTTE had introduced new fighting patterns. Therefore, this year also he is expected to announce the new military and political strategy of the LTTE, reports said.

LTTE have made elaborate arrangements to celebrate 'Heroes Day' to pay tribute to the cadres who were killed in action, reports said.

Tomorrow's 'Heroes Day' celebrations will also mark the 39th birth day of V. Prabhakaran.

The LTTE has asked the schools, shops and the residents in Jaffna to fly white flags and decorate the streets and buldings to mark the 'Heroes Day', reports said.

LTTE cadres have already started placing cut-out pictures of their dead colleagues in the peninsula and illuminated them with ornamental lights. "They are marking their 'Heroes Day', but on the other hand it has created some kind of a festive mood in the peninsula" a traveller from Jaffna said.

Meanwhile according to reports from France, where the LTTE has its foreign office LTTE supporters have arranged to celebrate 'Heroes Day' through out Europe.

Mr. N. Sathyendra, son of the late Senator S.Nadesan will address a mass rally organised by the LTTE in Zurich, Switzerland tomorrow.